DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: "medical device" in line 18 of the claim lacks an article. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ferzli (US 5147373).

Ferzli discloses a manual actuating apparatus for operating a medical device comprising: a handle (Figs 1 and 17); a finger loop (finger grip 16) mounted on the handle for receiving a finger of an operator; first (18) and second (20) lever members mounted on the handle for grasping engagement by other fingers of the operator (column 2 lines 43-49), each of the first and second lever members being independently and pivotably (pivots 22 and 24) mounted on the handle for movement between respective first and second positions; and a force transmitting member (actuating rod 30) operably connecting at least one of the finger loop and the first and second lever members to the medical device for operating the medical device at a location distant from the handle where movement of the first and second lever members between the first and second positions, relative to the finger loop, causes the same operation of medical device (i.e. a clamping of jaws at the distal end of the device); whereby, in the course of operating the medical device, the first and second lever members are positioned relative to the finger loop so that the operator can reposition the other fingers between the first and second lever members with rotation of the finger within the finger loop while operating the medical device with the finger within the finger loop and thereby assure a comfortable hand posture throughout the complete range of operation of the medical device (column 3 lines 43-45); and wherein an upper finger loop (18) is integral with the first lever member at the free end thereof; and wherein a front finger loop (20) is integral with the second lever member at the free end thereof (Fig 1).

Further regarding claim 1, the limitation "where movement of the first and second lever members between the first and second positions, relative to the finger loop, causes the same operation of medical device" as recited in lines 15-18 of the claim is broad enough to include the operation of the medical device as disclosed by Ferzli. Movement of the first lever member and movement of the second lever member in the Ferzli device both cause actuation of jaw members at the distal end of the device, which is the same operation of the medical device.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 10, 2007 have been fully considered.

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
